SLAYBAUGH AND
BAKER TAKE UP
CO. SCHOOL JOBSNew Superintendent
Announces Institute
For All Teachers,
August 31.THREE TESTS FOR
EIGHTH GRADERS

Professor J. Floyd Slaybaugh and Professor Ira Y. Baker, both of Gettysburg, today became superintendent and assistant superintendent, respectively, of the Adams county public school system.

Professor Slaybaugh succeeds Professor W. Raymond Shank, who served as county superintendent two terms of four years each. Professor Baker succeeds Professor Slaybaugh, who served as assistant county superintendent eight years.

Office Created In 1854
Professor Shank said today he had not made any plans for the future.

Professor Slaybaugh, who becomes the thirteenth county superintendent since that office was created in 1854, with the late David Willis as the first superintendent, said he plans to conduct the office along the same lines as in the past.

"While I have jurisdiction over all high, elementary and rural schools in Adams county, with the exception of Gettysburg, which is a third class district and has its own superintendent, I plan to invite Professor L. C. Keefe, superintendent of the local public schools, and all Gettysburg teachers to unite with me in conducting institutes, rallies and educational meetings," Professor Slaybaugh said. "By uniting in activity and spirit, much good can be accomplished at a minimum cost for all school districts."

Teachers To Meet August 31
One of the first items of business transacted by Mr. Slaybaugh after taking over the reins of office this morning was to call a meeting of 11 teachers in Gettysburg and Adams county for August 31 at the high school building for a one-day session of a regular teachers' institute. A mid-term rally is also planned for January.

Professor Slaybaugh also announced that eighth grade pupils will be given three periodical tests during the year, the first in October, the second, which will be an office test, will be given by the home teachers in January, and the third will be given in April. Upon the recommendations of the teachers and the results of the three tests, pupils will be selected for high school entrance examinations to be held during the first week of May, 1935.

Mr. Baker was out of town today, being in Washington, D. C., where he is attending the National Educational association convention June 30 to July 6, as one of the delegates from the Pennsylvania State Educational association. He will be at his desk in the court house next Monday.

Professor Slaybaugh, who was elected county superintendent in April, will receive a salary of $3,150 a year. His assistant receives $2,700 a year.

Gives History Of Office
In connection with the change in the county superintendency, Professor Slaybaugh has prepared an interesting history of the creation and development of the office of county superintendent.

The brief history follows:
"The office of county superintendent, created by the general assembly of 1854, met with considerable opposition in some sections of Adams county.

"The free school system was had, in the opinion of many. The office of county superintendent was considered the right arm of the common school system at its beginning. People gradually learned to understand and appreciate the need of intelligent supervision over the interests of the boys and girls of Adams county.

"The first county superintendent was David Willis, who was elected June 5, 1854. He served a little more than two years and then resigned. His successor was the Rev. Leuben Hill, who was appointed September 1, 1856, for the unexpired term. W. L. Campbell was elected May 4, 1857. He resigned at the end of fifteen months. J. Kerr McIlhenny became his successor by appointment September 1, 1858, but died of typhoid fever in August, 1859. He was succeeded by John E. Ellis, who was commissioned in October, 1859. Mr. Ellis was elected in May 1860, and served the full term of three years.

"In May, 1863, Aaron Sheely was elected at the triennial convention of school directors. Mr. Sheely was re-elected in May, 1866, for his second term. J. Howard Wert was

GOERING MAY
GET VON PAPEN

Vice Chancellor be

Violence.HITLER'S AIDE
HELD PRISONER

Berlin, July 2 (AP).—A bold stroke from President Paul von Hindenburg today calling the Reichswehr to the defense of Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen's safety was quickly followed by advices from usually well informed sources that the vice chancellor would resign or would be ousted at the instigation of Chancellor Hitler probably tomorrow.

Advisors said Prussian Premier Hermann Weidmann Goering would succeed Von Papen.

President von Hindenburg who earlier in the day had sent his congratulations to both Hitler and Goering threatened a state of seige if von Papen were victimized for his recent bold stand in criticizing some Nazi policies.

Order Special Guard
A guard of special black shirt soldiers was delegated to insure von Papen's safety.

The president, from his retreat in Nideck where he is lying ill, telegraphed the chancellor:

"You have saved the German people from serious dangers. I express to you my deep thanks and gratitude with cordial regards."

So far as was known to the public, von Papen was still forbidden to leave his apartment adjoining Hitler's. Several of his collaborators were dead.

Those executed in Saturday's ruthless liquidation of Nazi extremists and rightists included Werner von Alvensleben, von Papen's close friend.

Buildings Guarded
Others close to von Papen were said to have been given the alternative of doing away with them.

QUALITIES FOR GOOD CITIZENS
PASTOR'S THEME

Rev. George E. Snyder Preaches on "Christian Citizenship."

NATION DEPENDS UPON ITS PARTS

Qualities for good Christian citizens were outlined by the Rev. George E. Snyder, pastor of the Mt. Tabor United Brethren church, in his sermon Sunday evening.

His subject was "Christian Citizenship." The text was taken from Luke 20:25, "And he said unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's."

"This text has two parts. The latter part usually occupies our attention. Today our thoughts shall center about the first portion. That which applies to our civic duties. When Jesus spoke he did not mean that the church and state were either untied or separate. Each has its place. One cannot be neglected without injury to the other. A United States senator once said, 'The golden rule has no place in politics.' We agree that it certainly has no place in some political fields but that is not admitting that it should not have a place. We live a dual life with responsibilities calling from both sides. A citizen is a better citizen if a Christian and a Christian may be a good citizen if he is careful about his civic duties.

"Is the United States a Christian country? The question seems unnecessary. We are not asking for any special recognition of God in the constitution. We are concerned not with paper and words but with life and practice. Factors that will make a man a Christian will make a nation Christian. A nation is the whole, man a part. The whole cannot be greater nor anything other than its parts."

Nation Depends Upon Individuals
Continuing the Rev. Mr. Snyder said: "Jesus taught that the kingdom of God is within man. Not something that will arrive at some far off time. You are a Christian if now the things for which Christ stood and gave His life are the things that dominate your life. The same rule can be used to test a nation's standing. Many Christians allow practices in their lives that Members of Gettys lodge who died since last year's memorial service were Edward F. Menchey, E. S. Faber, J. C. Hoke, the Rev. Dr. Earl J. Bowman, H. James Weikert and Harry Miller.

After proceeding from the lodge rooms, center square, to the cemetery, the Odd Fellows placed flowers on the graves of departed members of the order, previously designated by symbols of the order.

Afterward, the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs gathered in the center of the cemetery for the memorial service, conducted under the direction of C. A. Heiges, chairman of the committee.

Rev. Reaser Speaks

The opening prayer and the address were given by the Rev. Paul L. Reaser, acting pastor of St. James' Lutheran church and a member of Gettys lodge of Odd Fellows, who gave an interesting and instructive outline of the duty of man to man in the attainment of universal brotherhood, the goal of mankind.

In his remarks, the Rev. Mr. Reaser cited the cardinal principles upon which the order is founded—friendship, love and truth—as the basic principles for living. He stressed the fact that faith in God is essential to membership in the order.

"To truly memorialize those who have gone on," he said, "we must ask God for guidance to lead us through the trials of life."

Ellis Weigle, 19, son of Mrs. Caroline Weigle, York street, was in a serious condition at the Waynesboro hospital today with a self-inflicted bullet wound in his right chest, said by Waynesboro police to have been fired with suicidal intent.

Jealousy is said by Waynesboro police to have prompted Weigle's act which occurred at 1:10 o'clock this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Strausbaugh, where the youth, who is employed at the Landis machine company, Waynesboro, lives.

According to Waynesboro police, Weigle has been the "boy friend" of Miss Elizabeth Strausbaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Strausbaugh, where the young man lives.

When Weigle returned to the Strausbaugh home, Sunday evening, Waynesboro police said, he learned that Miss Strausbaugh, who is employed at Stallsmith's newsstand drug store here, had gone with several other young couples on a motor trip to Hagerstown.

Weigle went to his room where he had a 32-calibre revolver, and shot himself in the right chest, the bullet taking a downward course. Immediately after he shot himself, Weigle, who remained conscious, called for Mr. Strausbaugh. Later he was removed to the Waynesboro hospital.

An operation was performed this morning in an effort to remove the slug.

Mr. Strausbaugh, at whose home the shooting took place, is a brother of Mrs. Robert J. Bollinger, Baltimore street.

Young Weigle was graduated from the Pennsylvania soldiers' orphans' school at Scotland several years ago. For some time after his graduation, he was employed at C. W. Epley's garage, Chambersburg street. A younger brother, Ronald, is still a student at the school.

The boy's mother was taken to his bedside this morning.

2ND PART OF PAY
CUT IS RESTORED

Five Per Cent Increase For All
Federal Employees in Town, County.

All federal employees in Gettysburg and Adams county, including a number of postmasters, clerks, carriers, rural carriers, employees of the national park and officers in the two local civilian conservation corps camps, went under a new pay schedule on Sunday.

According to a recent act of congress, salaries of all federal employees were increased five per cent, retroactive to January 1, and an additional five per cent increase becoming effective July 1. It is not known when the third five per cent, completing the 15 per cent reduction in all federal salaries effective a year ago, will be returned.

The fifteen per cent reduction in federal salaries was ordered as an economy move. Restoration of part of the reduction was included in the independent office bill passed by congress several months ago.

Under the present set-up, effective on Sunday, all federal employees have had ten per cent of the fifteen per cent slash returned and their salaries are now only five per cent less than they were a year ago.

With the second five per cent restoration of pay effective now, fiscal experts have estimated that the increase will add an additional $125,000,000 to the budget estimate for the fiscal year beginning Sunday.

C. C. C. Will Enroll 160,000 New Recruits

Washington, July 2 (AP).—Enrollment of 160,000 new men in the civilian conservation corps, representing 110,000 replacement and 50,000 additions to camps in the drought area, began in every state of the union today.

The replacements will make up for upward to 70,000 men discharged from the corps Saturday in compliance with the regulation limiting membership to one complete year, and another 40,000 who dropped from the ranks during the last three months to accept outside employment.

The 50,000 additions will be spread over the twenty-two drought states, and will supplement the strength of approximately 300 existing camps and provide for 173 new forest camps, said Robert Rechner, director of the emergency conservation work.

New enrollees at the C. C. C. camps on the battlefield are expected to arrive here some time this week, although no definite date has been set for the men to report here.

Executed Poilus Are Exonerated And Widows Win 7 Cents Apiece

Five Shot in 1915, After Their War-Weariness Mutinied, Are Acquitted in Paris Because Their Names Were Chosen by Lot.

Paris, July 2 (AP).—Five war-weary soldiers, chosen by lot and shot for the mutiny of their company in 1915, were exonerated Sunday, and the widows of two of them awarded 7 cents apiece.

A special military tribunal acquitted them to clear their names. For more than ten years the case of the Fifth company has gone from court to court, while the widows of Soldiers Prevost and Morange, aided by attorneys, sought vindication.

On April 19, 1915, the Sixty-third infantry returned to the trenches after a bloody expedition into the German lines in the St. Mihiel sector.

The Fifth company, of which Sergeant Morange and Private Prevost were members, was cut almost to pieces.

But the Fifth had the best fighting record in the regiment, and the gaps in its ranks were filled with raw recruits. The Fifth returned immediately to the front lines while other companies rested.

"At the moment when the Fifth returned to the front line," says the official record, "the German machine gunners set up a terrific, endless fire. The trenches were a living hell. The dead from the preceding attack were piled one upon the other."

The officers of the Fifth gave the order to go over the top, but the men did not move.

The commanding officers met shortly afterward and decided the whole company should be taken before the council of war, which undoubtedly would order them executed en masse. It was decided instead, to select by lot one man from each squad. Five men appeared before the council and were ordered executed by a firing squad.

When the present review court opened one of the justices remarked that the war council never would have sentenced the men if it had known how they were chosen. But the company's officers did not explain.

Bass Season Opens In Penna. Today

Only a few Gettysburg and Adams county fishermen took advantage of the opening day to fish for bass this morning. Some went to nearby streams while a few were reported to have journeyed to the northern tier counties where bass are reported to be plentiful.

The season closes November 30. A maximum of ten bass nine or more inches long may be taken legally.

The fish commission reports that rapidly clearing water in some streams and clear water in other streams presages favorable conditions for the opening today. Wardens have reported seeing many bass at spawning time.

After a lapse of a year, plugs with nine points may be used again this season. The commission had restricted the number of points to three but approved use of the nine-point plug after a storm of protest from sportsmen, who pointed out most of their plugs have three burrs of three points each.

Treating Gunman, Physician Slugged

North Webster, Ind., July 2 (AP).—Dr. Leslie A. Laird, physician in this Northern Indiana resort center, was slugged unconscious early Sunday by two men, one of whom he had treated for a gunshot wound.

Police expressed the opinion that his assailants were members of the Dillinger gang, but the doctor said he was not able to identify any photographs of known Dillinger mobsters as those who attacked him.

"Of course," he said, "I might be mistaken, but I got a pretty good look at them. I don't know whether they were Dillinger men."

The sheriff, coming here from Warsaw, where John Dillinger and a henchman not so long ago slugged a policeman and made away with arms and ammunition, said he was not certain that finger prints found in the doctor's office would prove of value.

The attack occurred in the early hours. The doctor was routed from bed by a knock on his door and asked by a man to go to his office to treat his friend, supposedly hurt in an automobile accident.

Says Federal Aid Has Hurt Schools' Programs in State

Washington, July 2 (AP).—James N. Rule, state superintendent of public instruction in Pennsylvania today told the National Educational Association fear of permanent federal school aid and of federal control of the schools had handicapped efforts to obtain an emergency sub-sistence from the government last year.

He said the legislative action committee composed of educators, had made it plain "at every point of contact with the federal congress," that its proposals were for temporary aid only.

Rule reported in his address today the assistance obtained from the government "was not all that we desire but that it was gratifying, considering the handicap."

CIGAR PLANTS IN PENNSY SHUT DOWN

York, Pa., July 2 (AP).—Most of the cigar factories in the Red Lion district, the center of the handmade cigar industry, closed Saturday for an indefinite period.

The reason given by the manufacturers is that they cannot operate at a profit under code regulations and union demands. The NRA code for the industry went into effect today.

Virginia Woman Is Murder Victim

Stroudsburg, Pa., July 2 (AP).—The body of a woman, with two bullet wounds in the head, found last week near Marshall's creek, was identified Sunday as that of Mrs. Mary J. Hastings, of Blue Ridge Springs, Virginia.

The identification was made by a cousin of Mrs. Hastings, Patrick Deady, of Bridgeport, Connecticut, and two sheriff's deputies, O. D. Lemon and T. D. Zimmerman, of Blue Ridge Springs.

The deputies said Robert C. Kent, Jr., was being held without bail in Roanoke, Virginia, on a charge of kidnapping Mrs. Hastings, who was the proprietor of the Blue Ridge Springs hotel. They stated Mrs. Hastings left the hotel with Kent on the night of June 24.

Deady and the deputies said identification was made positive by initials on rings found on the dead woman's hands, as well as her jewelry and false teeth.

The body was taken from the morgue of Bryan W. Kisor and will be returned to Virginia by the officials.

Goering May

(Continued from First Page) selves or facing a firing squad. Government buildings were heavily guarded today. The black shirted Schutz Staffeln, Goering's special guardsmen, were held in readiness for any emergency.

Berlin was going about its business, but the atmosphere was densely charged as rumors flowed through the streets.

Berlin, July 2 (AP).—Chancellor Hitler was reported Sunday to have carried on his purge-by-death of the Nazi party by having ten additional rebelling storm troop leaders executed, bringing the total killed in this manner to 18.

This figure did not take into account those high in the nation who committed suicide or were killed "resisting arrest" as Hitler struck furiously against rebelling subleaders.

Situation Outwardly Is Calm. The general situation, outwardly calm, was complicated by revelation that President Paul von Hindenburg is ill enough to require a "major medical council" of leading physicians at his summer home at Neudeck.

The nearest thing to official confirmation that ten names were added to the list of those executed was a statement by Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Prussian premier and co-purser with Hitler, that "a few more" executions would be announced soon.

Two Executions in Munich. Nazi quarters in Munich stated that Karl Zehntner, an innkeeper, and Alexander G. Laser, a lawyer, were executed Sunday at Stadelheim prison "as traitors."

The determination of Hitler and his colleagues to carry on relentlessly was voiced in a radio speech by Dr. Joseph Goebbels, propaganda minister, in which he warned that "those who conspire against the state" are "playing with their own heads."

Meanwhile, Vice Chancellor Von Papen, closest friend of Von Hindenburg in the present government, was practically under arrest in his own private residence, which he had been forbidden to leave.

Goering Promises Probe

A thorough investigation of the storm troopers found under arrest, which included the Berlin special staff guard, was promised by Goering. He said the public will be thoroughly advised of the results of the investigation.

Reports Sunday night from the country estate of President Von Hindenburg at Neudeck stated that no immediate crisis is feared and indicated that the remarkable vitality of the veteran field marshal once more is baffling his physicians.

Physician Returns From Visit

The state secretary in the president's office, Dr. Otto Meissner, returned to Berlin with a statement that at present Von Hindenburg's condition appears satisfactory.

When reports of the calling together of physicians reached Berlin the rumor was quickly revived that Von Hindenburg had written a "political will" naming the conservative Von Papen as his successor and enjoining the army, always faithful to the president, to help him if necessary.

Western Indian Tribes Ready to Break Bread

Pawnee, Okla., July 2 (AP).—The Pawnees and Osages are ready to break bread together again after 50 years.

These two Indian tribes have looked at each other with malice in their eyes since the Pawnees stole an Osage pony in 1879.

The fleet feet of that pony cost many a Pawnee a pretty penny. He bet on Pawnee ponies but the Osage horse won every time. The only way to own a winner was to steal it. The Osages were enraped.

Major Gordon W. (Pawnee Bill) Little, one time partner of Buffalo Bill (William F. Cody) is bringing the tribes together again.

SPITE MARRIAGE

by Katharine Haviland Taylor

SYNOPSIS: Marsha Moore remembers her parents only as gay and futile people; she has lived many years with her spinster Aunt Gertrude, whose harsh regimen has gradually made Marsha a hard and heartless hunter of men. But now she has met Bob Powers, home on vacation from his job in Mexico, and she finds that she does not want to hurt him, even though she finds it impossible not to do so sometimes. Bob is calling.

Chapter Seven

MARSHA PERTURBED

Bob murmured, "Thanks awfully—as he settled by her.

"And you can hold my hand," Marsha added.

He took it and for some moments she sat staring down at it; and again she had the curious and new impulse to tears that had lately disconcerted her.

Suddenly he held her hand against his cheek. "I love you very much, Marsha," he said in a whisper. "What are you going to do about it? I know I'm not—half the man you should have—" (his voice thickened) "if caring counts—"

"But I don't know whether it does," she answered coolly as she drew her hand away.

"I don't mean to bother you," he said.

"Then don't, dear," she answered lightly.

He was staring down on her as he did so often; adoringly, yet problemingly.

"You won't like it much where I'm stationed in Mexico," he confided, "and I can't go back without you."

"You seem quite certain, Bob—"

His chin squared; he frowned. "I'm not," he said, "and I wish I were a better liar. I try to act certain, feeling that perhaps that's the way to win. I've heard so from other men—but right in the midst of it I know I can't cheat you. You see?"

"I do, my dear!" she assured him. She wished he were Geoffry, her sort; as her aunt had put it that day, "equally depraved." He attracted her strangely, but she did not want to be made miserable by attraction, to feel through it her cheapness, to remember through it her many compromises.

She rose. "We'll go somewhere and dance!" she said quickly; "this doesn't do! One thinks, and then—but come on! I'm not domestic!"

He had risen slowly as a man does who would rather not rise. "And you wanted to play mushroom and to talk about our souls," she accused.

"No," he contradicted, "I wanted to talk about myself . . . and of how lonely I'd been, and of how I dream now, that I'll never be lonely again."

It had a real dream last night. In it he was coming back to the shack down near Alres Calientes and you were on the porch waiting as I turned into the gulch.

"I saw you through a gap in the trees . . . you held out your arms. I've never, never had, awake, the equal of that moment. I ran the rest of the way."

He broke off abruptly. She stared up at him, who beneath tan was flushed.

"You'll never know," he said after a long silence, "how I cared for you. For there would be no way of showing you. But all life, if I had the chance, I would try to prove—"

Once more he broke off abruptly. "I've bored you," he said, a little stiffness in his voice. "Forgive me—"

She saw his shoulders square and understood through them his resolve not to trouble her. Never had she known such control. He held her cloak for her, but his hands did not linger on her shoulders as some men's did. He said, smiling a little, and mirthlessly, "I would not want to do that too often!"

In the street he signalled a taxicab and in it he sat away from her. She had known so many men who found excuse to edge closer with every jolt. Some day he would find the right woman, of course. Some very good woman who would not be afraid of domestic evenings and of what silence they might bring forth.

"Are you tired?" he asked anxiously.

"I don't think so."

"You are unusually silent, Marsha."

"If you want me to chatter sweet nothings, I'll—"

He interrupted. "I want you to do, while with me, exactly what you want to do, Marsha."

She moved suddenly to rest her cheek against his muscular upper arm. She heard him draw a sharp breath. "It means nothing," she explained, "but you said I was to do as I wanted to do."

"It means more than you think," he said; "I know it does, if my arms mean rest to you." His voice trembled, broke. He moved slipped his arm around her, drew her close; held her gently. "Do— you mind?" he whispered.

"Oh, no," she answered quite steadily, a little wearily.

"I love you so much; I want so much to kiss you," he said and he was proud of the steadiness with which he had managed to speak.

"Why not?" she answered. It might help him, she thought, to kiss before he rode away. And of course it would make no difference to her. Nothing much could make any difference to her.

He took off his hat before he entered his face to hers; then very gently he touched her lips with his.

"I am quite mad about you," she heard. She raised a hand to touch his cheek and the touch made him show a little of the madness, a very little, she thought. But he said, breathlessly, "Dearest, tell me, I didn't frighten you? It would kill me to hurt you in any way."

He seemed quite himself, dancing. "Please be brotherly," she had begged, "the other—rather bores me!"

His arm that encircled her did not once tighten, although his effort to keep it from doing so more than once made him flush darkly and the veins on his forehead thickened. But he seemed quite himself and brotherly, and Marsha told him at two that she had had "an enchanting evening."

For once in her life, Marsha felt a slight sense of escape at returning to her aunt's straight-laced, prim house. She felt with Bob as an actress might feel who had played the same role too many times, and suddenly found the man playing opposite her had dropped several cues in a row.

She did not sleep soon. She lay thinking of Geoffrey Tarleton, who never dreamed asleep or awake and who knew her measure and whom, in her way, she loved. She would feel better after an evening or two with him. And meantime, she hoped she would not really hurt Bob Powers.

Something very important happens to Marsh, tomorrow.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York.—The portrait of Irving Berlin you saw on the cover of a famous magazine the other day was done by Ray Lee Jackson, who believes photographers must be able to diagnose character before they can hope to excel in the art of taking pictures.

Jackson has been in New York only a little more than two years, yet already he is a trooper in the Broadway Dawn Patrol, having established himself with a broadcasting company and taken his place in the list of the favored. The names of celebrities who have had their photographs taken by him reads like next year's Who's Who.

Shooting Big Shots

To understand what Jackson means by diagnosing character—which is really the ability to dissipate a subconscious antagonism most people feel when sitting for portraits—you should go through his gallery. Then you would know what it means to transpire personality from the living countenance to paper. His photographs are so life-like one half expects them to talk.

Among his clients have been Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, wife of the president, H. L. Mencken, Rudy Vallee, Walter Huston, Helen Hayes, Paul Whiteman, Guy Lombardo, Fannie Hurst, Fanny Brice, Lanny Ross, Lawrence Tibbett, James Melton, Jessica Dragonette, Phil Baker, Ben Bernie and anybody else you might mention.

Vallee's Valet

An amusing incident happened when Vallee came in to be shot. Jackson didn't think the particular tie the crooner was wearing would shape up well in the photograph and said so. In a huff, Vallee telephoned his valet to bring every tie he owned to the studio. Thirty minutes later the man arrived with more than 100 neckties, from which Jackson gravely selected one and asked the singer to don it. Then he photographed him, and it is about the best picture Rudy ever had taken.

In a recent magazine article, H. L. Mencken stated that Jackson was the only man who had ever taken a good picture of him.

"Jackson's art," he wrote, "has made dozens of crooners look like movie heroes when in real life they actually look like a lot of senators from the middle west—as indeed I do."

Ray is an established fixture here now. I knew him well in the pre-Manhattan days, when both of us were wondering about that next meal. Then he came to New York and clicked over night. The only difference is that he has that well-fed appearance, and the only regret he has about New York is that he didn't get here 10 years earlier.

Oddly enough, they don't pay money when Ray takes their pictures. Their bills are footed by the broadcasting company, the pictures being primarily for advertising.

"Maybe," Ray says brightly, "that's why the people in my pictures have such happy expressions on their faces."

The date of B'r'r Terrapin's back is 1880 and the initials are "C. A. O., T. M., and J. K. R."

W. Glenn Morris found the turtle on his farm and inquiring about it learned that the J. K. R. stands for James K. Roberts, of Rutan. However, Roberts said he found the tortoise in 1915 and just added his initials to those already there.

Morris is looking for the knife wielders of 54 years ago.

York Springs climbed to within half a game of first place by defeating the league-leading Arendtsville team at York Springs, 6-2.

Gettysburg received a rude jolt which dropped them to seventh place, Cashtown downing the locals on the playground field, 10-6.

A seven-run uprising in the seventh inning, featured by a home-run by "Reds" Hartman with two on base, gave Cashtown its winning runs. Gettysburg pounded out eleven hits but failed to bunch them. Starter went the route for the victors while Maust twirled the ninth frame after relieving Bohn.

Fairfield's fast stepping tribe moved into third place by nosing out East Berlin at East Berlin, 6-5. Bendersville won handily from Emmitsburg, defeating the invaders, 9-3.

BEHIND THE BARS

Philadelphia, July 2 (AP)—The county board of law examiners feels there's a limit to everything.

One applicant for admission had a record of 114 indictments and several convictions against him, and was on parole at the time.

Said a member of the board in mock seriousness: "Our rule is not to admit to the bar anyone who has been indicted more than 100 times." The "rule" was not violated.

It is reported that only 24 dimes of a certain type were minted by the United States in 1894, making them extremely rare.

Fans Fourteen In Four Innings

Oakland, Wis. (AP)—A baseball believe-it-or-not.

Roy Flurry, pitcher of the Oakland high school nine, struck out 13 batters in four innings, which sounds like a mathematic impossibility in view of the fact that four times three make 12.

Flurry whiffed all three batters for three innings, totaling nine. In the next frame he fanned the first man, then gave a base on balls. He fanned the next man, but when the catcher dropped the third strike the batter reached first, as the catcher feared to throw to first for fear the other runner would score.

Flurry retired the next two men.

"ALL IN" FROM A LONG SWIM

ENJOY THIS WAY OF INCREASING YOUR ENERGY

Smoke a Camel
—and notice its
"energizing effect"

With the pleasure of Camel's distinctive flavor comes an added benefit—an actual increase in your flow of natural energy. That exhausted, "dragged-out" feeling slips away...your "pep" comes flooding back.

This discovery, confirmed by a famous New York research laboratory, means that by smoking Camels it is possible to restore the flow of your natural energy—quickly—delightfully—and without jangling your nerves.

For no matter how often you choose to "get a lift with a Camel," Camel's finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS never get on your nerves!

"Camels give me a refreshing 'lift' in energy when I feel tired out. And they don't interfere with my nerves."

Levity of behavior is the bane of all that is good and virtuous.—Seneca.

The Flood of Wednesday Night.—The rain fall of Wednesday night was wide-spread and destructive. The storm seems to have been much more destructive to the east and south of us. While there was a steady fall of rain in Gettysburg on Wednesday evening, it was not thought to be unusual and our

Read the Bible With Us Daily

Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling.

For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure.

Do all things without murmurings and disputings:

That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world;

Holding forth the word of life; that I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that I have not run in vain, neither laboured in vain.

Yea, and if I be offered upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, and I joy and rejoice with you all.

For the same cause also do ye joy, and rejoice with me.—Philippians 2:12-18.

citizens were surprised next morning to hear of the havoc along the streams east and south of us. Marsh creek was much swollen, but we hear of no bridges being swept away except the new one at Snyder's mill. There was considerable damage to the fences and crops all along the banks of the stream. Foot-logs were swept away at the Keystone mill, Glenwood mill, Highland woolen mill, Paxton's, Stern's and Beard's in Highland township; also the foot log near Pitzer's school house, over Wiloughby run and to other points along both streams.

The heaviest destruction was along the Conowago. Among the bridges carried off were those at Lilly's mill and Gitt's mill, the new wooden bridge near New Chester and the bridge across Beaver creek near East Berlin.

Commencement Week.—On Tuesday the seminary board met and transacted the usual current business. Rev. H. Baker, of Altoona, was elected president; Rev. T. C. Billheimer, of Reading, vice president, and Rev. E. Breidenbaugh, of this place, secretary. Rev. G. U. Wenner, of New York, was elected to deliver the next Holman lecture on the Augsburg confession, and Rev. J. A. Rice, of Baltimore, the Rice lecture. The following were given diplomas: J. W. Byers, C. M. Eyster, L. N. Fleck, W. Kuhns Hill, W. E. Stahler, S. J. Taylor, Philip Wittich.

On Tuesday evening the seniors held their class exercises on the campus, in the presence of a large number of ladies and gentlemen. Charles A. Britt delivered the address of welcome; Herman F. Kroh read the class history; A. S. Fichtelthorn read an original poem; C. L. Fleck read the class prophecy and J. L. Butt addressed the undergraduates. As a class memorial the seniors put a square granite shaft in the lower part on the campus, on the top of which was cut "84," and on the side facing the main college building their class motto "Nobis Scrinius, Nobis Metimus."

Wednesday morning the College church was crowded to hear the junior orators. (Among the orations delivered we find) E. E. Housh, Glen Rock, "Conversation"; "Brush and Chisel," Charles Reinewald, Duncansville; "The Shoals of Life," Norman Galt, Washington; "The Poles," J. S. Hartman, Two Taverns; "Ships," L. D. Gerhardt, Martinsburg, W. Va.; "The Character of Richelleu," S. S. Neely, Gettysburg; "A Plea for Cremation," E. G. Miller, Philadelphia; "A Hundred Years Ago," R. M. Harding, Gettysburg.

The college board held its sessions on Wednesday. The most important business had reference to the presidency. Dr. Valentine having accepted the chair of Didactic Theology in the Theological seminary, tendered his resignation as president of the college.

Rev. C. S. Albert, of Baltimore, was unanimously elected president to succeed Dr. Valentine. The following were appointed a committee to wait upon Rev. Albert and announce to him the action of the board: D. A. Buehler, Esq., J. E. Graeff, Hon. J. E. Smith, W. M. Baum, D. D., and J. W. Rice.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

THROUGH MISFORTUNE

THERE is a tremendous quickening of the entire spirit of a man who has gone through hardship, sacrifice or misfortune.

Wealth, position, sudden fame, each does much to smother the real soul of a man. But misfortune strips him bare—reveals his nature in all its weakness or strength. A person parades his good luck and his winnings—but his misfortune and his losses he usually keeps to himself. Thereby is the greater triumph when he rises again, real master of himself.

In misfortune a man shows himself in his most human arrangement, his real self. He has nothing to advertise, nothing to invite the envy of others, nothing to give—outside the example of his courage.

Yet it is during times of misfortune that men grow greatest, become more resourceful, and rise into leadership. They learn more about themselves than ever at such a time. What they say and do is the more genuine.

Byron, the English poet, from all accounts, seems to have been a man of tremendous energy, yet one who loved to pose and give out impressions that might shock or cause idle gossip, so that he became very unpopular in the public eye—yet the record of his correspondence to his real friends shows him to be simple and sincere, candid, and balanced in his ideas, as well as revealing none of the glamorous sham that he tried to exhibit in public.

It is never wise to discredit anyone because of some surface revelation. The honest human heart will never totally reveal its hurts or misfortunes, its secret strifes with fate or circumstance.

When the records of history are carefully examined one learns of the astounding truth, that nearly every great advance in human achievement has come about—through misfortune of some sort. A man thinks hardest—and fastest—when down!

Milton, Lamb, Hearn, Cowper, among writers, each had some serious form of misfortune, probably having more to do in endearing each to fame than anything else.

mention of Melancthan Coover, Johnston; Herbert C. Alleman, Shippensburg.

On Tuesday night the seniors had a class supper at the Eagle hotel. The Phi Kappa Psi fraternity dedicated their new chapter house the same night, Judge Hoy delivering the dedicatory address. The chapter house cost about $2,500 and will be known as Miller Hall, in compliment of Daniel R. Miller, of Pine Grove, and in recognition of his liberal contribution to its erection.

On Wednesday night the Xi chapter of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity had a banquet at the Eagle.

TIME IS MONEY

Philadelphia, July 2 (AP)—Any one who thinks time isn't money might revise his theory by scanning next year's city budget request.

The bureau of city property says it is going to ask for $30,000 to stabilize an erratic city hall clock. The bureau, like a lot of complaining citizens, feels it's time for the four faces to get together and stop the "carioca" movement.

Hershey Police Win Md. Shooting Match

Camp Ritchie, Cascade, Md., July 2.—The Pennsylvania state police "blue" team, of Hershey, Saturday bettered the world's record for pistols or revolvers of .32 caliber and up at twenty-five yards at the thirteenth annual meet of the Eastern Small Bore association.

The Pennsylvania team fired an aggregate score of 1407. The previous record was 1398, according to association officials. Ten police teams were entered in the event.

Members of the winning team and their scores were: Pvt. B. L. Burtner, 285; Pvt. T. E. Eshelman, 284; Lieut. A. J. Whittecotton, 280, and C. C. Snitas, 277.

The order in which the other teams placed was: Delaware and Hudson Railroad police; West Virginia state police; Baltimore city police; Pennsylvania state police; Buffalo, New York, city police; Metropolitan police of Washington; Lower Merion police of Ardmore, Pennsylvania; Cumberland,

'AFTER HITLER SMASHED REVOLT

This picture, transmitted from London to New York by radio, shows armed police on bicycles patrolling the deserted streets of Berlin after Chancellor Adolf Hitler ruthlessly smashed a revolt of oppositionists to his rule. Qualities for are not of Christ. They attempt to follow but fail. The same is true of our nation.

"Examine our social institutions. Hospitals, orphanages and the like, schools for defectives, blind and deaf, insane institutions, all of these and others are indications that as a nation we are impressed with the responsibility that man owes his weaker brother. This is without doubt a Christian quality. On the other hand, let the front page and following of any city newspaper tell you of the failures of our nation to follow the footsteps of the Master. We are a Christian nation but we fail nationally as we fail individually.

"The elements that help make a more perfect Christian nation are the same that are applicable to the individual. Apply what we know in our life as Christ-like. Education not merely of the intellectual man but spiritual man as a factor that cannot with impunity be neglected. Our national consciousness must be more keen."

 In conclusion the pastor said: "We do not need more laws but greater respect for the laws we now have. If we have bad laws, see that they are annulled. But so long as they are laws, obey them in spirit of the Master's words, 'Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and to God the things that are God's.'"

Just Folks

by EDGAR A. GUEST

THE MISERY OF CHEATING

He cheated just a little and his comrade never knew.

He won a little silver cup to place upon a shelf,

And someone made a pretty speech and called him "sportsman true."

Which only seemed to make him more disgusted with himself.

He took a sly advantage when no body else could see.

He thought he would be proud to own that little trinket cheap.

He thought he would be happy to achieve that victory,

But when he went to bed that night he found he couldn't sleep.

The cup stood on his mantel shelf, but every time he turned

It seemed to whisper to him: "You're a liar and a cheat!"

I'm the token of a triumph which you know you haven't earned.

I'm the symbol of a victory you know you can't repeat."

At last he took that cup away and hid it out of sight.

He couldn't bear to see it sneer upon his mantel shelf.

He'd fooled a dozen people for a bit of metal bright,

But when he got it home he found he couldn't fool himself.

Centenarian Is Oldest Driver

Richmond, Va., (AP)—E. R. Dusenberry has just celebrated his one hundredth birthday anniversary with natural pride, but he is even prouder of the claim that he is the oldest man in the world to hold a permit to drive an automobile.

It was issued by police in his home town, Rochester, New York, and displayed by Dusenberry in Richmond recently.

At the same service the bridegroom's sister, Margaret, 29, became the bride of William H. Steiner, 27, and another sister, Nellie A. Premoshis, 31, married Joseph Snelko, 34.

ENGINES "Breathe" LIKE HUMANS!

For Quick Starts... use this Gasoline that mixes better with AIR!

POUND, POUND, POUND! The racing feet come tearing down the track in that thrilling track event, the 100-yard dash! But watch the sprinter's face. Contorted in an agony for breath. Fighting for the energy-producing air that is so vital to his speed and power.

GOING UPGRADE, the load on your engine may easily be doubled. One result is that the engine tends to get hotter. And engine heat has its effect on the "gas" mixture. Even under such severe conditions, Mobilgas gives you a better mixture, always fully charged.

SAMPLE AFTER SAMPLE comes from the refinery. One cheek after another has to be made. This Socony-Vacuum scientist keeps an eagle eye on each test because Mobilgas gets its ability to mix better with air through a careful balance of many gasoline qualities.

THAT'S WHAT WE MEAN BY "CLIMATIC CONTROL"

"RUNNING LIKE A TOP." There's a real satisfaction in driving a car that is always eager to go—takes all the hills with ease—and makes the gasoline count! That's one result of Climatic Control. No matter what the weather, every drop works. That means economy.

YES—YOUR ENGINE "BREATHES" like you do—and for the same reason! Your body turns oxygen into power—and so does your car!

That's why your car has a carburetor. The engine draws in air. The carburetor jets send out a fine spray of gasoline. The two mix—and this makes the powerful "gas" that gives surging life to your car! You don't have to be an engineer to see that gasoline can be wasted and power lost—if your fuel does not mix properly with air. And you know yourself that weather changes constantly.

That's the reason Mobilgas has Climatic Control. This exclusive feature makes gasoline mix better with air. What does that mean? No power loss from daily weather changes. Power you can always count on. Quick starting—fast pick-up—all of the time.

That's what you want from a gasoline. So why not try Mobilgas soon? Just look for the sign of the Flying Red Horse

TO LAUNCH DESTROYER

Philadelphia, July 2 (AP) — Elizabeth M. Farley, 11-year-old daughter of Postmaster General James A. Farley, will sponsor the U. S. S. Aylwin, a destroyer which will be launched at the Philadelphia navy yard July 10.

The ship is the second named after Lieutenant John C. Aylwin, Quebec native who was sailing master under Captain Isaac Hull, in command of the U. S. S. Constitution during the War of 1812.

The Aylwin's keel was laid in September, 1933.

16-YEAR-OLD CLERIC

Industry, Pa., July 2 (AP)—This little town boasts one of the youngest clerics in the state, a 16-year-old duly licensed minister.

The youthful pastor, Noah Fehl, Jr., of West Newton, is a son of the Rev. and Mrs. Noah Fehl. He has been preaching regularly since receiving his license last November, and is now supplying the First Baptist church of Industry.

IN THIS TIRE!

And—
at no extra cost!

Amazing Golden Ply Prevents Great,
Unseen Cause of Blow-outs

SOMETHING had to be done to make tires safer. Every year thousands are killed or injured when blow-outs throw cars out of control. Goodrich engineers met the challenge with the Life-Saver Golden Ply. This amazing invention resists the terrific heat inside the tire. Rubber and fabric don't separate. Thus blisters don't form. The great cause of blow-outs is eliminated before it begins. No wonder thousands are changing to this tire proved 3-times-safer—gives months of extra mileage, too! Come in today and see it.

GOODRICH TIRES
ARE GUARANTEED

With each tire, you'll get the Goodrich guarantee which protects your tire investment for one whole year against any condition that may render the tire unfit for further service—except punctures, fire, theft or abuse from running flat.

*Prices subject to change without notice and to any governmental tax or levy.

SIGN ON THE LINE

Philadelphia, July 2 (AP) — Fifteen-year-old Edwin Hewitt, who started out to be an autograph collector and has a nearly perfect score, offers fellow craftsmen a recipe for success.

Edwin encourages the famous to sign for him by drawing cartoons of them and mailing the sketches with a request that the art be returned with their signatures.

He says:
"Give 'em a chance to laugh at themselves. They'll sign almost every time."

TOO GLOOMY

Media, July 2 (AP)—Residents in the neighborhood of George O. Topotzer's undertaking establishment, not only are tired of curbing their "merriment and recreation out of respect for the dead and for mourners" but they don't want that sort of business near them.

The neighbors in a bill of complaint seek injunctive relief from the Delaware county courts. The scene of the alleged gloom is Lansdowne.

BLUE SUNOCO
THE ONLY TRUE BLUE
MOTOR FUEL

ONE POLICY

ONE GRADE

ONE PRICE

By making only one motor fuel
we are able to sell this unique, brilliant
Blue Sunoco at regular gas price

STREAMLINED ACTION... for ALL CARS

ONE POLICY... To make a pure motor fuel—which gives high-powered, knockless, streamline performance in any car, whether new or old; and still sell it at the same price as ordinary gasolines. That is the Sun Oil Company's one all-important policy.

ONE GRADE... Our one and only motor fuel, Blue Sunoco, is outstanding in every gasoline quality—fast in acceleration, high in knockless power, smooth in performance, economical in mileage, uniform and pure—yet sells at regular gas price.

ONE PRICE... Since we make only one first-grade motor fuel—not two or three grades—great economies are effected in the refineries and warehouses, in the number of delivery trucks and gas pumps. That is why we are able to sell our one—and only—high-grade Blue Sunoco at regular gas price.
